The first crop of alfalfa has been cut and is estimated at over a ton tings to be heard from.

The hay crop on General Billups' farm, under the management of Mr. tons, and sold for $11.00 a ton for Bermuda and $18.00 for alfalfa. Mr Williams' Bermuda averaged two tons and the alfalfa three tons per acre, ranging from one to five tons according to the quality of land. Think of this: Five tons on an acre at $18.00-$90.00 an acre-less cost of cutting, baling and loading on

The best news I have heard in many moons is that alfalfa will grow to perfection on the Caledonia lands. Mr. V. A. Nickles has a patch as an experiment and he is highly pleased with results. He will plant a large plot this fall. If any man east of the river succeeds with this best of all forage plants W. A. Nickles will be that man. He made last year on eight acres corn enough to feed ten head of horses and mules for a year. He made this crop by using no other plow than a side harrow.

Mr. Nickles has a pair of four-yearold mules of his own raising that weigh 960 pounds and 1,040 pounds, respectively.

Mr. Tom Walters, of Caledonia, has the finest crop of oats in the

The fall oats crop of the county is extra fine and the Hillbillies have binding machines to harvest the crop.

There was a short corn crop made in Lowndes last year but the boys in beat one have corn to sell. J. A. Robinson, Sam Dodson, Charlie Betts and others along Military and Seedtick roads have corn for sale.

Mr. James Curtis, of Lone Oak, is building for Mr. Jamie Billups one of the best hay and stock barns in the county.

Mr. C. R. Smith has the most convenient barn in the prairie and Mr. W. G. Evans has the largest barn in Eastern Mississippi, measuring 150 feet long and width proportionately.

The honey bee is cutting quite a figure throughout the prairie. Dr. Chandler, Mr. W. P. Smith, Mr. E. Askew, Mr. Bat Williams and others have gone into this industry on an extensive scale and the average yield last year per stand was 60 pounds of honey, which brought a ready sale at 12 1/2 cents per pound; 60 pounds, $7.50; 100 stands, $750.00. No plowing, no hoeing, no ginning; 75 per cent clear profit. Honey made from mellilotus blooms is the best in the world for color and flavor and the prairie is the natural home of the mellilotus.

> Attention, Veterans of Forrest's Cavalry.

I have secured the use of Gelder's Hall, corner Fourth Avenue and Twentieth street, Birmingham, Ala., for Headquarters of Forrest's Cavalry during the Reunion in June. By writing to Colonel Thomas S. Tate, at Birmingham, or applying to him immediately upon arrival, you can secure a horse, saddle, and bridle for use on day of parade for two (2.00) dollars. It is my earnest desire that every member of Forrest's Cavalry shall join with us in the parade. All are requested to meet at Gelder's Hall at 10 o'clock a, m, second day of Reunion. A mass meeting and election will be held. Let every veteran of Forrest's Cavalry make an effort to attend. We will never have such an opportunity to meet again. Most sincerely your comrade,

The first thing a physician does, when he is called to see a patient, is to find out what is wrong, and it is equally important with us, when we have suffered a serious financial and business set back, to get a correct idea of the trouble. With this knowledge we can make intelligent progress: Without it we move forward gropingly. As usual Wall Street is illogical. Wall Street and the followers of Wall Street assert with bitterness that president Roosevelt is responsible for the panic. With all this we have concluded it matters not who is at fault the city of Columbus continues to enjoy the old time prosperity. There are enough people in this city who have plenty of this world's money and we are now having numerous calls from them for all kinds of city property.
